A WOMAN posed as a man to deceive her short-sighted female victim into having a sexual relationship, a court heard. Georgia Bilham, 21, is accused of renaming herself "George Parry", dressing in men's clothing and removing her victim's glasses whenever they were together, to fool her into believing she was in a heterosexual relationship. Chester Crown Court heard the victim had agreed to sexual activity with "George", but she had not consented to sex with the defendant, who is charged with 17 offences, including sexual assault and assault by penetration.

Brave Holly gets back on her socials

HOLLY Willoughby has returned to social media for the first time since Phillip Schofield's explosive departure from This Morning.

The TV presenter, who was absent from the ITV morning show during the furore, returned to screens on Monday but has not shared a permanent post on her personal Instagram account since May 18.

She shared a photo of herself in the dress she wore for the live broadcast.

Sporting a floral Ghost dress and nude high heeled sandals, Willoughby can be seen smiling for the camera.

During interviews last week, Schofield told the BBC that Willoughby did not know about the "unwise, but not illegal" relationship with a younger male colleague, and has apologised for lying to her.

Meter fiddling rockets in UK

NEARLY half of gas and electric engineers have been asked to tamper with meters in the last year, as people struggle with the cost of their energy bills.

Almost a third of tradespeople (30%) also say they have seen evidence of tampering in clients' homes.

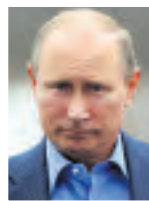

Anyone caught doing it can face a £30,000 fine and even risk death.

Research from Direct Line business insurance found 43% of electricians and gas engineers have been asked by customers to tamper with their meters.

Flooding disaster fears after Russia's attack

DAM YOU, PUTIN!

UKRAINE has accused Russian forces of blowing up a major dam and hydroelectric power station, threatening a 'catastrophic' flood that could displace hundreds of thousands of people and cause a disaster by cutting off cooling to a nuclear power plant.

The Ukrainian Interior Ministry confirmed that the Kakhovka dam over the Dnieper river in the south of the country was damaged in an explosion and water had begun flooding through.

The ministry called for residents of 10 villages on the river's right bank and parts of Kherson to evacuate their homes. Ukrainian authorities have warned that the dam's failure could unleash 18 million cubic meters of water and flood Kherson and other towns.

Environmental security expert Maksym Soroka warned the damage 'can easily be compared to [an] atomic bomb explosion', given the devastation that could occur if the dam is broken completely.

President Volodymyr Zelensky convened Security Council after the explosion at the dam which provides vital cooling at the Russian-occupied Zaporizhzhia nuclear power plant.

The explosion has sparked concerns of a possible meltdown at the plant if the reactors cannot be cooled.

Sue Gray's cleared for Labour job

FORMER senior civil servant Sue Gray could take up a job as Sir Keir Starmer's chief of staff in the autumn.

Ms Gray quit the civil service in March, prompting fury in government and claims rules had been broken.

The government wanted to stop Ms Gray working for Labour for a year.

However, reports suggest the advisory appointments committee says she could start the job six months after leaving the civil service.

The BBC has been told the same by someone with knowledge of the process.

The independent Advisory Committee on Business Appointments (Acoba) has been looking into the appointment and will provide a final judgement on Ms Gray's departure.

Ms Gray has held some of the most senior roles in the civil service and is best known for leading a probe into the Partygate scandal, which contributed to Boris Johnson's downfall as prime minister last year.

Stop kids vaping say worried docs

PAEDIATRICIANS have warned youth vaping is "fast becoming an epidemic among children" as they called for the government to ban disposable vapes.

The Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health warned vapes "are not a risk-free product and can be just as addictive, if not more so than traditional cigarettes".

It called for urgent action to protect kids.

"Since e-cigarettes have only been on sale in the UK since 2007, long-term studies don't yet exist," it said.

"It took experts decades to understand the impact of traditional cigarettes, we cannot risk our children's health in waiting this long again for longer-term studies."

Whistleblower reveals Yanks have hoard of crashed UFOs...

AREA 51 IS REAL!

THE US has a trove of parts and equipment from 'non-human origin' UFOs which have crash landed on earth, a whistleblower claims.

Former spook David Charles Grusch said the US and other nations are also engaged in top-secret operations that attempt to 'reverse-engineer' the pieces to create weapons.

But Grusch also claims the information has been illegally withheld from Congress as the government tried to hide the finds, which are involved in an '80-year arms race' to take advantage of the technology.

For years, conspiracy theorists have insisted the US military experiments on UFOs on an air base in Nevada known as Area 51. Grusch said: "We are not talking about prosaic origins or identities. The material includes intact and partially intact vehicles.

"The existence of complex historical programs involving the retrieval and study of exotic materials, dating back to the early 20th century, should no longer be a secret."

Ostracised

Grusch, who served in Afghanistan, has handed over details of the alleged operations to Congress and the Intelligence Community Inspector General.

He has also filed a complaint against the Department of Defense and claims he's been ostracised for his decision to blow the whistle.

The 36-year-old worked on the Unidentified Aerial Phenomena Task Force from 2019-2021.

He also told News Nation that the US has part of 'non-human origin technical vehicles'.

"Call it spacecraft if you will. It's probably not the right parlance. But no kidding, non-human exotic origin vehicles that have either landed or crashed," Grusch added.

He said the evidence amounted to spacecraft from other species. A retired Army

Colonel who was also part of the government task force, Karl Nell, said: "His assertion concerning the existence of a terrestrial arms race occurring over the past 80 years focused on reverse engineering technologies of unknown origin is fundamentally correct."

"As is the indisputable realisation that at least some of these technologies of unknown origin derive from non-human intelligence."

HARRY: I FELT PHYSICALLY SICK

THE Duke of Sussex felt "physically sick" over eight payments to private investigators related to his late mother Diana, Princess of Wales, the High Court has been told as he began his evidence.

Harry is suing Mirror Group Newspapers for damages, claiming that journalists at its titles were linked to methods including phone hacking, so-called "blagging" or gaining information by deception, and use of private investigators for unlawful activities.

Harry entered the witness box of Court 15 shortly after 10.30am yesterday, swearing on a Bible ahead of his cross-examination by MGN's barrister.

In his witness statement for the case, Harry said he was "shocked and appalled" by the number of payments made by MGN titles to private investigators.

The Duke added: "I now realise that my acute paranoia of being constantly under surveillance was not misplaced after all."

Harry alleges about 140 articles published between 1996 and 2010 contained information gathered using unlawful methods, and 33 of these have been selected to be considered at the trial.

"I mean, how do you bring up a conversation?" she explained on Sunday Today with Willie Geist, adding, "Also, when I talk to my dad it's usually not about work."

Without her knowing, The White Lotus babe added that her dad had invited her grandparents along to a viewing.

"My dad and my grandpa turned it off and walked out," the actress, 25, admitted.

Her grandma, on the other hand, is a "big fan".

Sydney added: "I bring her all over the world to my different sets, and I make her an extra."

Sydney also said her mum was the only one "prepared" for the racy scenes after visiting her on the set.

The babe previously revealed her grandfolks' reaction to the Euphoria Season 2 premiere: "They said I have the best tits in Hollywood!"

The bombshell also opened up about her nude scenes, and frustration with the audience.

Light saber goes out for Skywalker

LUKE Skywalker is hanging up his Jedi robe and lightsaber for good.

Star Wars legend Mark Hamill sees "no reason" to return to a galaxy far, far away as farm boy-turned-Jedi Luke Skywalker.

"I had my time, and that's good," Hamill, 71, said "But that's enough."

However the legendary actor seemed to leave a cargo bay door open on the Millennium Falcon.

But pressed, Hamill added: "Well, you never say never."

Hamill first played the Jedi in 1977's Star Wars: Episode IV — A New Hope and was most recently seen in 2019's The Rise of Skywalker.

"I just don't see any reason to," Hamill continued.

"Let me put it that way: I mean, they have so many stories to tell, they don't need Luke any more."

Government loses £3.4bn to COVID fraud

THE government is still being "too slow" to recover taxpayer money lost to fraud and error over the pandemic, MPs have said.

The cross-party Public Accounts Committee (PAC) laid bare a number of "repeated problems".

Total fraud and error across COVID furlough schemes delivered by HMRC was an estimated £4.5bn, of which the department expects to recoup just £1.1bn.

"Some increase in fraud was an inevitable short-term consequence of providing support quickly, but government is being too slow to recover taxpayer pounds lost," the report said.

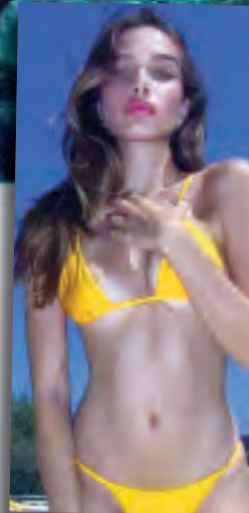

"Whitehall departments have an opportunity to do better by the taxpayer by prioritising work to tackle current levels of fraud and error."

A WOMAN posed as a man to deceive her short-sighted female victim into having a sexual relationship, a court has heard.

Georgia Bilham, 21, is accused of renaming herself "George Parry", disguising herself in men's clothing and removing her victim's glasses whenever they were together, to fool her into believing she was in a heterosexual relationship.

The deception was only discovered when the woman's mother became suspicious and told her daughter she did not believe her boyfriend was a man.

Chester Crown Court heard while the victim had agreed to sexual activity with "George", she had not consented to sex with the defendant, who is charged with 17 offences, including sexual assault and assault by penetration.

Opening the case for the prosecution, Anna Pope, said: "It is a case about this defendant deceiving someone that she was, in fact, a man."

"And that means, we say, that all the sexual activity that took place between those people was based on a false pretence – and so did not involve true consent."

Glasses

The jury heard how the defendant's online profile was "George_132" and featured a cartoon image of a blonde man with sunglasses.

The pair began messaging online before eventually meeting up in person when the defendant always wore boy's clothing and kept her hood pulled up.

Posing as George Parry, Ms Bilham claimed to have links to an Albanian crime gang.

The court was told the victim was short-sighted and whenever they were together the defendant would remove her glasses for much of the time, so she could not see Ms Bilham clearly.

The jury heard how the alleged victim's eyesight is "very poor".

She was described as being short-sighted with anything more than 14cm from her face being blurred, meaning without her glasses she was "essentially blind".

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

When the relationship became sexual, the jury was told when they spent the night together the defendant would keep her clothes on, even in bed.

The victim grew frustrated the defendant showed unwillingness to be touched intimately and often "gave excuses".

Ms Pope said it wasn't known if Ms Bilham was sexually attracted to the woman or whether she "gained some form of buzz from duping" her.

The court heard the defendant would pick the victim up in her car but was approached by police after being involved in an accident.

Ms Pope suggested Ms Bilham "panicked" because she feared her true identity would be revealed. The victim overheard officers refer to the name Georgia, but when she asked about her true gender, she was told it was a fake licence.

As her suspicions grew, she asked the defendant to prove his identity. But Ms Bilham claimed she did not have a passport.

But it is alleged Ms Bilham's true identity was revealed in August 2021 when, posing as George, she first met the victim's mother. She'd seen photos Ms Bilham had sent her daughter and did not believe it was the same person.

Ms Pope said as the victim started to ask more questions "she began to realise the persona of George Parry was fake, created by the real Georgia Bilham".

Ms Bilham allegedly apologised to the victim, telling her the deception "just took over my life".

Ms Bilham, from Alraham, Cheshire, denies all 17 charges and the trial continues.

Fined for abuse of women and w*nk in public

A MAN has admitted wanking in public and shouting intimidating comments at women.

Simon Clifford Jones, 42 (above), of Nailsworth, Glocs, appeared in front of magistrates in Cheltenham last month where he admitted two public order offences and outraging public decency.

He made a second appearance in court last week where he pleaded guilty to a further count of outraging public decency by behaving in an indecent manner, specifically by masturbating in a public place.

Jones was handed a Sexual Harm Prevention Order following the incidents.

The first took place on July 17 last year, when he shouted frightening and sexual comments at a woman along a canal path.

Four days later, Jones made similar comments to a woman on a cycle track.

Jones must now also do 105 hours of unpaid work, participate in rehabilitation activity, pay £114 to fund victim services and pay costs of £165.

THE unemployed are being asked if they are willing to star in porn films by job centres.

Politicians have called for the question to be axed from a list for jobseekers prepared by Actiris, which is the public employment agency in the Belgian capital, Brussels.

"This is scandalous," said Françoise De Smedt, of the Workers Party.

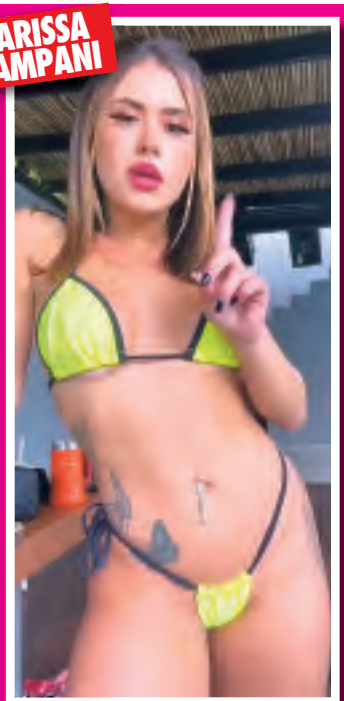

"Jobseekers should not be faced with such proposals. It's also creating a number of very uncomfortable moments for Actiris advisers!"

Ms De Smedt said the "trivialisation" of selling your body was "totally unacceptable on the part of a public service".

'Croc sex' advertising is banned

COSMETICS brand Etto has had two of its adverts banned over concerns about CROCODILE SEX.

Ad standard chiefs in Australia found the ads, which plugged the firm's Pure Oil Spray hand cleaner, breached the Australian Association of National Advertisers' code of conduct.

The complaints about the ad said that it is "oppressive" adding: "It conjures thoughts of pornography and bestiality. The image harks back to the 1970s and earlier."

"Has there been no progression in the advertising industry on the portrayal of women?"

Assaulted

Another complaint said: "In the context of the tagline, and that the product is to relieve pain, the clear implication of the image is that the Aboriginal woman (above) is being sexually assaulted by a crocodile."

Etto, meanwhile, maintained that the ad was not only tasteful but that the complaints themselves were "offensive in nature".

In a statement, they added: "We do not believe the image is degrading. As a company led by women, we find the image celebratory of natural female beauty."

JAIL:
Raul
Meza

A CONVICTED child rapist and murderer connected to multiple cold cases was arrested after he called the police and confessed to the crimes.

Raul Meza Jr was identified as a person of interest when police officers in Pflugerville, Texas, conducted a probe into the stabbing to death of his 80-year-old roommate Jesse Fraga on May 20.

After cops obtained an arrest warrant, Meza, 62, called the Homicide Division of the Austin Police Department with a chilling message.

Austin Police Detective Patrick Reed said the killed told them: "My name is Raul Meza and you're looking for me."

Meza then allegedly confessed to the killings of Fraga and a female in 2019 after providing details never released to the public.

Knives

During a welfare check on May 20, police discovered Fraga inside a wardrobe with a belt around his neck along with knives and blood around the home.

Fraga met Meza in the 1990s when the latter was out on parole and Fraga was an adult probation officer trying to help rehabilitate the convict.

Meza was arrested and is being held on four charges, including one capital murder charge, a felony for Unauthorised Use of a Vehicle, and two undisclosed first-degree felonies.

Police said Meza had bags of zip ties, duct tape and rounds of ammo during his arrest.

Over the last 50 years, Meza has racked up an extensive rap sheet.

'HELLO, POLICE? I'M A SERIAL KILLER!'

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

He was first arrested and charged with the aggravated robbery of an Austin convenience store clerk in 1975.

Meza was sentenced to 20 years in jail but only served five.

In 1982, Meza, still on parole for his robbery arrest, was charged with raping and murdering eight-year-old Kendra Page.

Meza was found guilty to the charges, and was sentenced to 46 years in prison, but was released 11 years later for "good behaviour," before being sent back to jail for violating his parole in 1994.

"Here's a serial killer that justice has not served. It was a travesty of justice," said Interim Assistant City Manager Bruce Mills, the main detective during the 1982 murder probe.

Murdering

Meza would be in and out of jails, having trouble finding a job – one of his parole conditions – before finding himself a home in 2012, next door to Gloria Lofton, 66, who Meza would later confess to murdering in 2019.

OAP SURVIVES 3HR KILLER BEE ATTACK

A PENSIONER is lucky to be alive following a savage three-hour attack by around 200 killer bees, which was so severe he broke his hip trying to escape the deadly swarm.

"I hit some of them with my hands and you just can't kill 'em fast enough," Carl Amos said while the "relentless" aerial assault, which took place while he mowed his lawn in Mayville, Oklahoma.

The 81-year-old (below) added: "They were going in my hair, my ears, and in my nose, and I thought, 'I better keep my mouth shut because those bees will be in my mouth'. I crunched 'em and then they didn't come out, so I blew and then some of them came out and then I stuck my finger in my nose and pulled them out."

Carl tried to flee the scene but ended up tripping and breaking his hip.

The attack lasted for three hours before a man from a nearby business came by and called an ambulance.

The OAP had more than 100 stingers removed in hospital.

A gator in a parking lot

MMA fan's cage fight with gator

AN MMA fighter had the match of a lifetime when he wrestled a 10ft alligator in front of 200 cheering fans outside a school.

Amateur Mixed Martial Arts fan Mike Dragich, 33, took on the unusual opponent in a car park near the school in Jacksonville, Florida, as a crowd gathered to watch.

He said: "We get there, I walked through the gate and boom... there it was, just ready to go right there in the parking lot. We had to get the job done."

Dragich, dressed in a muscle shirt (above), grabbed the gator by the tail in an attempt to drag it.

After the beast broke free, Dragich armed himself with a catch pole which he was able to put around the alligator's neck.

"When you go to the cage you're nervous, but once that cage door closes, you gotta be focused and that's what I remember," he added.

'It's a taboo, as it feels so naughty'

I'M a huge fan of bum fun – get me really turned on and I'll be begging you for it!

So firstly guys, you've got to take it nice and slow... it's delicate back there, so don't go rushing in and banging for Britain. Carefully caress the butt with a finger and tease me – make sure you use lots and lots of lube, too.

I love having a tongue flicked across my arsehole and the key here is to get a girl really aroused and to get those muscles relaxed before full penetration, and then it doesn't hurt.

When this is done properly it's heaven. The area is so rich in nerve endings and anal sex can feel so good.

I'm extremely hygienic and give myself an anal douche before any bum play.

And for the fella, it's a narrower passage than the vagina, giving more pleasure from the increased friction.

Anal is still a taboo, as it feels so naughty, but it's so natural, too!

Man held for 'losing' coke in fast food

A FAST food worker was arrested after he lost his bag of cocaine – which ended up in a customer's hot dog.

Jeffrey Salazar, 54 (above), now faces a possession of a controlled substance charge, the Espanola, New Mexico Police Department said.

Cops said illegal drugs were discovered in a punter's order at the Sonic drive-thru diner.

The substance was inadvertently placed in the food as Salazar was preparing it, and a field test confirmed the substance was cocaine.

A woman called cops after she tucked into her food only to find she had bitten into a plastic bag. She does not believe any of the powdered substance went into her mouth.

Salazar admitted to police he purchased the cocaine from someone in the restaurant's car park, according to the arrest warrant.

He can be seen on CCTV making the order then frantically looking for something he lost shortly after.

A TEENAGER shot dead his parents and two siblings as he thought they were "cannibals" who planned to eat him.

Cesar Olalde, 18, faces charges of capital murder for the deaths of both of his parents, his older sister and his younger brother during an incident at their home in Nash, Texas.

Olalde is said to have killed his parents Reuben and Aida, as well as his older sister Lisbet and brother Oliver.

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

An arrest report says Olalde shot all four and dragged their bodies to a bathroom in the house before then barricading himself in the property.

It is also claimed that Cesar told cops he killed his family because they were cannibals and they were going to eat him.

Joseph Flieder told cops Olalde had said he'd killed his family, after Mr Flieder stopped by their home to check on his co-worker Lisbet, who had failed to show up for work.

Mr Flieder told police that other friends and family of the Olaldes had called their local church looking for info as to her whereabouts.

Mr Flieder said that when he and his wife went to the residence they got no answer at the door and another Olalde family member arrived at the scene.

The two decided they would force entry to check on the family and were confronted by Olalde as they entered, who was brandishing

a firearm.

After getting his wife out of the home, Mr Flieder told police Cesar made statements that he killed his family as they were cannibals and had plans to eat him.

Olalde also pointed a firearm at Mr Flieder during the exchange and brandished a knife at him.

Mr Flieder managed to escape before Olalde was taken into custody after cops arrived on the scene and surrounded the property.

Inside the residence, authorities said they found each victim shot multiple times and dead inside a bathroom.

Responding police said there was "blood spatter on multiple surfaces" and "multiple spent cartridge casings on the floor".

Olalde is being held in a local jail.

GIRL SHOT MAN IN THE BOLLOCKS OVER HOTEL REFUND

CHARGED:
Sam ThrasherBy BONNIE HILTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WOMAN shot a man in the BOLLOCKS after a row over a hotel refund.

Samantha Thrasher, 24, has been charged with first-degree assault and armed criminal action after the shooting at the SureStay Plus Hotel in Blue Springs, Missouri.

Police raced to the hotel after receiving reports of a shooting, where officers encountered a man, 36, suffering from several gunshot wounds.

These included one to the testicles.

They later discovered a seven-year-old girl had been hit in the elbow by a stray bullet.

Witnesses at the scene told police that before the shooting, Thrasher had nearly hit the unnamed man while they were walking into the hotel.

The witness said she exchanged words with Thrasher and that she believed Thrasher was under the influence.

Thrasher later walked into the hotel lobby and demanded a refund, but an employee told her only managers could provide one. Thrasher then became upset and a verbal altercation ensued with the member of staff before Thrasher grabbed the employee's hair and began hitting her.

The man who was shot intervened and was able to escort Thrasher out of the hotel.

CCTV shows that Thrasher went to a car and got a handgun.

Thrasher returned to the hotel lobby and fired several shots before fleeing.

A manhunt ensued after which Thrasher was found and arrested.

The shooting left the man in intensive care while the girl needed reconstructive surgery on her elbow.

Blue Springs police Sg. Keegan Hughes said: "That's one of our good hotels in this city. It's not normal for us to have calls at this hotel or disturbances - let alone shootings."

BRA-OFF FOR FREE BEER NIGHTCLUB SAYS SORRY

A NIGHTCLUB has cancelled and apologised for what was condemned as a "misogynistic" event offering free drinks - based on BRA SIZE.

Using the slogan "the bigger the better" the event at the Woolshed on Hindley's, in Adelaide, Australia, encouraged women to take their bras off in exchange for free alcohol.

A post on the venue's various social media feeds read: "Hanging your bra is uncomfortable... hang it up in the shed and let loose... that means you as well, boys!"

It stated women would receive one free drink for an A cup bra size, two for a B cup, and three for a C cup.

However, the promotion sparked backlash from social media users, with one deeming it "misogynistic bullshit" and another saying it was "disappointing that this was ever thought to be a good idea".

"The minute anything gets mentioned of free drinks and bras off, or the bigger the better, all the feral rabid sex-crazed creeps come out lurking," a Facebook user wrote.

"It's hard enough to keep drunk men away, then add the pressure of 'get ya bras off' to the mix," commented another.

"Was a terrible idea from the get go, whoever came up with it and then allowed it to be shared should be in trouble... this is seriously inappropriate stuff," a third said.

The Woolshed on Hindley later apologised "if the post made some patrons feel uncomfortable".

Police release 'battered' pic of 'cop killer'

A MAN found out just what happens to people suspected of killing cops...

Police released a mugshot showing the battered face of Timothy Kennedy, 29 (above) following his arrest for the fatal shooting of policeman Cory Maynard.

Kennedy now faces a first-degree murder charge in Mingo County, West Virginia.

Dozens of officers had searched for Kennedy for hours before he was arrested in a stolen vehicle at a law enforcement checkpoint.

Sgt Cory Maynard and two colleagues had responded to a complaint of a shooting at a home and were fired at when they arrived, state police said in a statement.

Maynard was shot and taken to hospital in Logan.

Gov Jim Justice announced Maynard's death in a statement and said that he was "heartbroken".

A motive for the shooting is unknown and remains under investigation.

Call centre staff remains in bags

POLICE made a horrifying discovery when they stumbled upon 45 bin bags containing human remains while searching in a ravine for seven missing call centre workers.

Prosecutors said in a statement that the bags were found below a forest: overlook on the outskirts of Guadalajara, Mexico.

Firemen used a helicopter to airlift some of the remains from the 140ft-deep Mirador del Bosque gorge and planned to continue the recovery operation.

Mexican authorities had been looking for seven young people who'd been reported missing from a call centre in the town of Zapopan when they came across the body parts.

The remains belonged to men and women, but it was not immediately known how many bodies there were in total.

Officials have informed families of those missing.

Adult actress Barbie Sins, 31, from London, is set to represent Britain in the international sexathon taking place in Gothenburg, Sweden.

Gong

She will compete against 19 others representing Romania, Greece, Finland, Spain, Croatia, Portugal, Italy, France, Slovenia and Ukraine for the top gong.

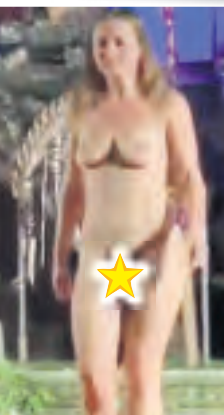

Contestants will need to earn enough points to progress through three levels and avoid being sent home, a bit like in ITV's Love Island.

Organisers of the event — the Swedish Sex Federation — hope the six-week contest, which starts on Thursday, will see nookie become an official sport.

Swedes are renowned for openness towards romps and earlier this year telly star Ulrika Jonsson said Swedes have "a more natural approach to sex".

TOURIST WHO STRIPPED NAKED IN TEMPLE SENT TO NUTHOUSE

A GERMAN woman who gaterashed a sacred dance performance at a Hindu temple and stripped nude has been sent to the nuthouse.

Police also accused Darja Tuschinski (left) of failing to pay bills at several hotels during her holiday on the island of Bali, which has seen a rise in deportations of inbound travellers over their behaviour or gestures that authorities say have hurt the religious sentiments of Balinese Hindus.

"The foreigner is depressed because she has no money to finance her stay in Bali," police spokesman Stefanus Satake Bayu said.

Photos and videos of Tuschinski, which went viral on social media, showed the woman walking around the dancers at the Saraswati

Hindu temple in Ubud.

Her act sparked outrage from local residents and netizens, and left some guests — mostly foreign visitors — bemused, while others shook their heads.

The tourist has been taken to a psychiatric hospital in the town of Bangli after refusing to get a flight home.

The incident came as the authorities in Bali last month deported a Russian woman back to Moscow after her viral nude photograph in front of a 700-year-old sacred banyan tree sparked backlash from local Hindus.

Another Russian man was banished from the holiday hot spot for posting a photo of himself half-naked atop a sacred mountain last month.

Dear Bexie,

LAST week I was drinking in an unfamiliar pub when I clocked a stunner alone at the bar.

I went over and chatted her up but, as she was in the ladies, a guy warned me: "You want to be careful there, they've all had her."

I took no notice and back at my place we were soon stripped off. She gobbled me to hardness, nibbling and teasing my bellend before sinking my whole shaft to the back of her throat.

I swivelled round so that her furry bush was over my face and I thrust my tongue deep into her dripping cunny.

After gorging myself on her musky love-juices for a bit, I licked the length of her slit.

Then I got her love-bean between my lips and sucked hard on it as she wriggled her round arse in appreciation.

We spent hours banging away before finally collapsing exhausted.

But a bloke came up to me in the pub the other night and reckoned her fella is after me.

Should I be worried?

I'm a bored, randy housewife in a rural area and for a hobby I have started claypigeon shooting at a farm where my instructor is the hunky farmer's son.

It wasn't long before we sacked off the shooting and he took me for a bang in the bushes.

My husband now wants to learn to shoot with me, but I'm afraid he'll find out what I've been up to.

Is it too risky?

Mum and daughter combo gave me one hell of a ride

Dear Bexie,

I'M a 40-year-old divorcee and I moved in with my girlfriend of the same age.

She has a 20-year-old daughter who is a cracker.

The other night in bed, I felt my bird's hand on my cock. Then I felt her kissing my helmet.

But I realised it wasn't my bird sucking my dick – it was her lass!

Then her mum edged her out of the way and took me into her mouth and I shot my load.

I was soon stiff again and my missus hopped on it. Then they swapped over and I rode the pair of them into the early hours.

Is this normal?

GD, Birmingham

Bexie says...

IT'S not conventional but, if you're all happy and satisfied, then good luck to you!

Dear Bexie,

THERE'S a good-looking lad who mows next door's lawn that I've always had a crush on.

Last week I plucked up the courage to invite him into my house for a brew and we "clicked".

In fact, we spent the afternoon shagging. He had an amazing body and great stamina – and an eight-inch cock that he really knew how to use for my pleasure!

He is 20 and I am 40 – but the problem is my neighbour knows and has threatened to tell my hubby.

Should I tell him first?

I'm in the doghouse since my toilet romp

Dear Bexie,

MY wife and I have been married for 22 years and we work for the same firm – which has turned out to be a disaster.

In the department where I'm usually based there are a couple of very attractive young female colleagues.

One of them is a horny thing in her mid-20s who has been married and divorced twice!

We normally go to the canteen together and she's always talking about the outrageous kinky sex she has with her latest fella.

She goes into graphic details of how he shags her and I often get a hard-on listening.

Me and the wife do have quite a healthy sex life despite being married for so long but she's not into anything out of the ordinary, whereas I'd like to try a bit of experimenting in bed every now and again.

One lunchtime me and this girl were chatting and she was telling me how her bloke took her doggy-style the night before.

She asked if I'd ever done it that way and I had to admit that, amazingly, I hadn't.

So she said: "Would you like to?" and I nodded eagerly.

With that she got up and told me to follow her to the ladies' loo.

I waited a while to make sure the coast was clear, and then I dashed in and she dragged me into one of the cubicles. My dick was almost bursting out of the thin material of my trousers as she unzipped me and took it out.

I reached under her flimsy top and unfastened her bra to release her beautiful firm breasts.

Then I took a nipple between my lips and sucked as she caressed my knob.

She slipped off her knickers before bending over the loo with her gorgeous bum in the air.

Ram

"There you go," she said. "Ram it home as hard as you like."

I crouched down and in one thrust I was in – and it felt great.

She was moaning and groaning as I pumped away and I had a huge grin on my face as my balls slapped against her firm arse. I was in absolute heaven!

But then, just as I was about to lose my wad, the door burst open – and who should be standing there with her hands on her hips – but the WIFE!

She slapped my face, glared at the girl then stomped off, leaving me with my dick going immediately limp and slipping out of the girl's wet fanny.

The wife hadn't spoken to me since that incident two weeks ago until this morning, when she told me she wanted a divorce.

But deep down I still want her and can't bear the thought of living without her.

What can I do?

CJ, East Midlands

Bexie says...

IT'S easy to say you should have thought of that before sticking your cock where you shouldn't, but all you can do now is throw yourself at her mercy. Buy her some treats – and see if she'll now try doggy-style!

Dear Bexie,

Sex, sex and more sex with amazing nympho is wearing me out!

Dear Bexie,

My girlfriend is amazing, in and out of bed, and I really love living with her.

But my problem with her is that she is a raving nymphomaniac and I am finding it very difficult keeping up with her sex drive.

I work hard at my job and when I get home late at night I'm usually pretty knackered.

But as soon as I walk in the door she's there in the front room lying naked on the rug exposing her moist, shaven fanny and with a daft grin on her face.

She won't even let me take my boots off before she's got my dick out – slobbering all over it and sucking on my swollen balls before straddling my length and riding me hard.

Shattered

It's the same story all evening – I don't even get a minute to have something to eat – until we go to bed at around 11pm.

And even then it's more sex until eventually, at something like 2am, she falls asleep and I finally get some peace.

But I have to be up again at 7am, so I'm always shattered. What can I do to satisfy her desire?

RT, Bristol

Bexie says...

WHAT the hell is wrong with you?! Most men would love your "problem". Man the f**k up.

I'M a 27-year-old builder. Last week I needed new boots so I called at a shoe shop where one of the female staff is really fit.

As I walked in, she was halfway up a ladder moving some boxes.

She's about 40 but the sight of her rounded arse at eye-level got me pretty aroused.

I couldn't help letting out a whistle, but the shock caused her to lose her balance.

Fortunately, I leapt over the counter and caught her. I said sorry and explained that her sexy bum had been a big turn-on.

Instead of being cross, she invited me to follow her into the storeroom.

Then she sank to her knees, unzipped my fly and sucked on my knob.

She was an expert and teased the tip with her hot tongue before taking the entire shaft into her throat.

The she slipped off her skirt and leaned back on some boxes, spreading her thighs.

Off came her panties and she slipped her middle finger into her love-tunnel.

So I thrust into her and f**ked her hard and long.

I'd love to go back and shag her again, but I can't afford to buy new boots every week.

What shall I do?

VJ, West Yorkshire

Bexie says...

SAY your first pair are pinching – then give her arse a pinch!

KARLI BRINKLOW

SALESMAN Johnny Cooper reckons he can use his talk and his charms on cracking Karli Brinklow.

The 46-year-old, from Hackney, North London, claims to have the gift of the gab and is confident he can talk Karli into bed.

Johnny says Luton lovely Karli is the hottest girl he's laid eyes on and we think her 32D norks would be more than a match for Johnny's chat.

He said: "Give us a snap of Karli would you – she's a real babe."

"She'd never be able to resist my charms, I tell you!"

GAIL McKENNA

WE'VE dug out a GORGEOUS photo of Gail McKenna especially for Henry Farnworth, who's celebrating his retirement.

Henry, 66, wrote in telling us all about his years of service as a bus driver but he's finally hung up his hat and is looking forward to relaxing with his favourite newspaper.

And he says the perfect present would be a photo of Ealing beauty Gail – and we've found this jaw-dropping picture of her flaunting her 32D norks.

He wrote: "I love Gail and I'm really looking forward to seeing her in the Sport again, if you'd fix it for me."

"It'll definitely keep my spirits up and everything flowing!"

Haven't seen
we'll put her

LEILANI

MECHANIC Neil Fulwood wrote in asking for a snap of raunchy legend Leilani.

The 59-year-old owns his own garage in south London and his dream customer is Bournemouth babe Leilani.

Neil said: "I love tinkering about with old motors and fixing odd bits and bobs on cars but the majority of my customers are blokes."

"I'd love Leilani to wander in and let me fiddle with her bumpers – seeing her 34Bs in the Midweek Sport brightens my day every time!"

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

RODIN (left)

Lmay to have her day at Newbury

LMAY is bred to thrive for stepping up in trip and can open her account at the third time of asking in the BetVictor Proud Partners Of Newbury Maiden Fillies' Stakes at Newbury.

Trained by the Gosdens, connections will be wanting something to show for their initial outlay of 650,000 guineas. She cost so much because she is a daughter of Frankel and closely related to the St Leger winner Logician.

Because there is so much stamina in the pedigree, it was pleasing to see her show plenty of speed on her debut at Haydock in April when second over a mile.

Upped to 10 furlongs next time at Newbury, she was thrown in at the deep end into Listed company and she actually moved into contention against some classy fillies.

Ultimately Warm Heart and Bluestocking proved too good for her on the day, but there is no denying she possesses plenty of quality.

That race should have

done her the world of good and back in calmer waters, as long as she stays, it is difficult to see her being beaten.

Richard Hannon's juveniles tend to improve markedly from their first run to their second, so Son is of great interest in the second division of the Get A Run For Your Money At BetVictor Maiden Stakes.

The son of Too Darn Hot finished a very creditable third of five on debut, beaten just over a length when a relatively unconsidered 12-1 chance.

Upped

He put in a very Hannon-like debut, running on strongly in the closing stages, suggesting he would very much be of interest next time out.

Roger Varian's Eximious can strike in the Watch Last Fan Standing On You Tube Fillies' Handicap.

Second to the now 91-rated Poetic Union on debut, she won easily at Salisbury on her next start before being upped in class.

She ran in the Rockfel and was only a 12-1 shot against the likes of the now-retired Commissioning, but it all proved a bit much.

The handicapper has given her a chance with an opening mark of 87, though, and she is expected to oblige.

Karl Burke's newcomer Beautiful Diamond catches the eye in the British Stallion Studs EBF Maiden Fillies' Stakes at Nottingham.

She only cost 30,000 guineas as a yearling, which rose to £360,000 at the breeze-ups in April.

Burke has his best ever team of juveniles and will head to Ascot with just about the strongest hand amongst the UK-based trainers and should this filly oblige, it would be no surprise to see her turn up in the Queen Mary.

Tom Clover's Rogue Sea has a pedigree that suggests she should be running in Classics, not the Yorkshire Accountants Ripon Restricted Novice Stakes at Ripon and while that ship has sailed, she can still have a decent career.

A winner on debut at Yarmouth, she was brushed aside by Sir Michael Stoute's Perfuse next time out when trying to concede a penalty. By Sea The Stars and out of Tarfasha, a Group Two winner who was second in the Oaks, she could come into her own with more racing.

Stoute's Prepense can follow up her win at Newmarket in April in the More Price Boosts Races At Umbet Fillies' Handicap.

The Kingman filly was second twice before winning with possibly more than the half a length in hand the form book says.

A mark of 85 is no gimme, but at least gives her a chance to be competitive, although stall 11 makes things tougher.

AUGUSTE RODIN could drop back in trip after attempting to complete a Derby double at the Curragh, according to Michael Tabor.

Tabor's famous royal blue and orange disk silks were carried to victory at Epsom. Tabor is now confident the son of Deep Impact will head for the Irish Derby.

He said: "I would say he'll go to the Irish Derby. I haven't discussed it, but it's common sense to say he definitely goes to the Irish Derby. Then we'll bring him back in trip."

Can the Postman deliver at Spurs?

LOWDOWN ON HOTSEAT FAVOURITE

SPURRED ON: Ange proved a point at Celtic

ANGE POSTECOGLOU is taking over as next manager of Tottenham.

Spurs fans appear to be split on the selection with some questioning his pedigree, but that will not faze the single-minded 57-year-old.

So what do Tottenham supporters need to know about their prospective new boss?

WHO IS ANGE POSTECOGLOU?

The Australian, who emigrated from Greece at the age of four, won two titles as a South Melbourne player, where he worked under Real Madrid great Ferenc Puskas, and won four Australia caps before injury forced him to move into coaching at a young age.

WHAT SUCCESS HAS HE ACHIEVED?

Postecoglou led South Melbourne to two titles as manager in his early 30s and then spent seven years coaching Australia's youth teams.

He burst back on to the domestic scene, leading Brisbane Roar from finishing bottom of the A-League to consecutive Grand Final victories in 2011 and 2012, with the help of a record 36-game unbeaten run.

He took charge of Australia at the 2014 World Cup, won the Asian Cup the following year and led his country to 2018 World Cup qualification before taking charge of Yokohama F Marinos, guiding them to their first J-League title in 15 years in 2019.

By WES DERBY

AND HOW ABOUT IN SCOTLAND?

He won five out of six domestic trophies during his two years in charge of Celtic, including a treble in what appears to have been his final campaign.

European football was the missing piece of the jigsaw for the Postman.

However, Celtic generally performed well in the Champions League this past season against Real Madrid, RB Leipzig and Shakhtar Donetsk, while squandering chances that should have got them more than two points on their return to the elite stage.

DOES HE HAVE THE EXPERIENCE FOR THE PREMIER LEAGUE?

Postecoglou addressed the fact there was a mixed response to his appointment as Celtic manager and was also unfazed by the fact a deal for Eddie Howe had fallen through.

"You are really assuming I was second choice, I might have been fifth choice," you never know," he said at his unveiling.

"It doesn't really bother me. What's important is that I have been given the responsibility and opportunity." He also dismissed suggestions he was making a "jump" in standard.

"I have coached at a World Cup, I have coached against some of the best teams in the world," he said.

He will not be concerned by the reaction to his Tottenham appointment given his total focus and belief in his process.

WHAT STYLE OF FOOTBALL DOES HE EMPLOY?

Postecoglou has matched success with an attacking style and prides himself on building teams that get people talking and excite the fans. Celtic scored a post-war club record 114 league goals this past season.

His goalkeeper will need to pass the ball out, his centre-backs get on the front foot and are aggressive, while he employs inverted full-backs.

His team played with two attacking central midfielders and two wingers who have to get in front of goal when balls come in from the other flank, while the centre-forward can expect plenty of chances.

His mantra is "we never stop" and even the Celtic ball attendants are in tune with his demand to keep the game moving.

WHAT KIND OF MANAGER IS HE?

Postecoglou has spoken of his love of a challenge and building something special from scratch.

"Just about every job I have had has been an extensive rebuild," he once said. "Usually you come in when people are needing change. Secondly, the way I get my teams to play is challenging, and requires a major shift, usually both in playing staff and the way we work."

He exerted control over a number of areas of the football department at Celtic and oversaw a massive rebuild while winning the title against a Rangers side who finished 25 points ahead the previous season and reached a European final in his first Scottish campaign.

He quickly won respect from Celtic players and fostered a culture of togetherness but also takes a step back from them and lets the dressing room run itself on match days.

WHAT RELATIONSHIP CAN TOTTENHAM

FANS EXPECT TO HAVE WITH THEIR MANAGER-IN-WAITING?

Celtic fans bought into their manager's style of play, how he represented the club and stood up for it in the media, although he very rarely talked about referee decisions.

He also understood how important the club is to people's lives and used that as a motivation.

They gave him total backing in return, although success is obviously paramount to that.

KEVIN FEARS INTER SHOCK

KEVIN De Bruyne does not believe Manchester City are favourites to beat Inter Milan in the Champions League final and secure the win they need to complete the treble.

City are well fancied to beat the Serie A side on Saturday in Istanbul and become the first English club to win all three major trophies in a single season since Manchester United in 1999.

By PAUL THOMAS

They moved a step closer on Saturday by adding the FA Cup to the Premier League title already won, with Ilkay Gundogan's goals helping Pep Guardiola's side to a 2-1 victory against United at Wembley.

Until now Guardiola and his players have largely sidestepped any talk of matching their city rivals' feat of 24 years ago.

But after the cup final victory, De Bruyne acknowledged how close he and his team-mates were to a remarkable achievement, yet stopped short of saying they were favourites to beat Inter.

"There was belief anyway but there was no point talking about it before," he said. "We know now. I want to win the Champions League and I want to win the treble but we were getting ready to win this game (against United)."

"We deserved to win. I am very happy and very proud. We should enjoy next week and hopefully we can perform the best we can.

"Inter are a very good team. Finals are 50-50. We were favourites today. It is always difficult. You have to manage these moments. There will be moments when it is tough but in the big moments we try to do our job."

"Inter have great players and we have respect for them. They haven't got to the final by beating easy teams."

De Bruyne will be looking to exorcise personal demons from the last time he played in a Champions League final, fracturing an eye socket and breaking his nose as City went down 1-0 to Chelsea.

"That is football," he said. "I have never broken anything in my life and I come out of the Champions League final with a broken nose, a broken eye socket and concussion."

Triumph

"It happens. There is nothing more I can do. I wished it was better but it wasn't."

Guardiola's team were knocked out in the last four by Real Madrid last season despite holding a two-goal aggregate lead going into the final moments of the second leg.

The Champions League is the only major honour that eludes the club, with Guardiola not having lifted the trophy since his second triumph with Barcelona in 2011.

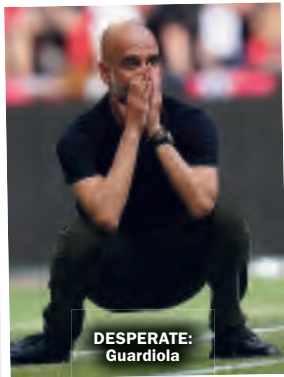

Asked if he believed City were finally ready to take the next step in Europe, De Bruyne said: "I can answer that question next week."

"I don't see it that way. We have performed really well. We have been in so many quarter and semi-finals and two finals. We have been there most of the time."

"One 90 minutes doesn't define a career. I am on around 700 games. One 90 minutes out of 700 doesn't define my career. But obviously it helps."

CARLO STUNNED BY BENZEMA CALL

REAL Madrid boss Carlo Ancelotti claimed Karim Benzema's choice to leave the club after 14 years was a surprise "last-minute" decision made on the final day of the LaLiga season.

Benzema's departure was announced by the Spanish outfit hours before the striker netted for the final time in Real's last game of the season on Sunday night, a penalty equaliser in a 1-1 draw with Athletic Bilbao. It took Real's most decorated player to 354 goals in 648 appearances and he leaves as the club's second all-time top scorer after Cristiano Ronaldo. Ancelotti said: "His departure was a surprise for everyone, but you have to understand it. It was a last-minute decision.

"We understood it. I spoke to him this morning and he said that he was leaving and I understood it. He has done very well with me in these four years and also at the club. For that all my thanks."

"He has thought it through and his decision is part of the transition of this club, which continues and will continue next year. We have time to think about what we have to do. We will have a competitive squad next year.

"I am sending him off knowing that I have coached one of the best players in the world and one of the best forwards. He is a very kind, humble and serious person."

"We cannot be happy about his farewell, but we have to respect his decision. He has won the right to choose and we all thank him for what he has been able to do at this club. It has been legendary, something unforgettable, and it will remain forever in the memory of this club."

Courtois paid tribute to his team-mate, telling the club website: "It's been a pleasure playing with Benzema. He's an excellent player and a true legend. It's a shame he's leaving, but we understand. He has the right to decide his future. I hope it goes well for him and his family."

"Today and yesterday have been days of goodbyes and it's sad because important players are leaving. We have to thank them greatly, especially Karim, for his career and the trophies he has won with the club. One of the greatest players in Madrid's history leaves with the Ballon d'Or."

Real Madrid released a statement saying the club and Benzema had "agreed to end his brilliant and unforgettable" stay at the Bernabeu.

It added: "Real would like to show its gratitude and affection to a player who is already one of our greatest legends."

"Karim Benzema has earned the right to decide his future."

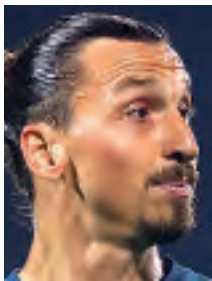

"Madridistas and all the fans around the world have enjoyed his magical and unique football, which has made him one of the great icons of our club and one of the great legends of world football."

Zlat's all folks says veteran

ZLATAN Ibrahimovic has announced his retirement from football at 41.

The AC Milan striker made the announcement on the San Siro pitch following his club's final game of the season.

"I have many memories and many emotions in here," the Swede said.

"The first time I arrived here you gave me happiness. The second time, love. I will be a Milan fan for life.

"The time has come to say goodbye to football, but not to you. See you around, if you're lucky. Forza Milan and goodbye."

A clearly emotional Ibrahimovic was serenaded by the Milan fans and given a guard of honour by his team-mates as he left the pitch.

The former Manchester United striker has spent most of the season on the sidelines due to injury, playing just four times for Milan and scoring once in a 3-1 defeat at Udinese in March, and his departure from the club had already been announced.

In July last year he renewed his contract for another year, despite facing the prospect of a lengthy rehabilitation from knee surgery.

Shortly after helping Milan win the Serie A title he had undergone a planned procedure on his left knee to repair damage and instability caused by a previous anterior cruciate ligament injury.

As expected that meant a lengthy lay-off and Ibrahimovic did not make his first appearance of this season until the end of February.

Ibrahimovic began his career at Malmo and joined Ajax in 2001 after rejecting the overtures of Arsenal manager Arsene Wenger.

"Arsene Wenger asked me to have a trial with Arsenal when I was 17. I turned it down. Zlatan doesn't do auditions," was how Ibrahimovic put it in his own inimitable style.

The prolific striker also had spells with Juventus and Inter Milan before an unhappy spell at Barcelona, where he complained about how he was used by manager Pep Guardiola.

"When you buy me, you are buying a Ferrari," Ibrahimovic said.

"If you drive a Ferrari, you drive on to the motorway and you floor the accelerator.

"Guardiola filled up with diesel and went for a spin in the countryside. If that's what he wanted, he should have bought himself a Fiat from the start."

Striker Defoe would love to see his former manager lead West Ham to Europe glory

JERMAIN Defoe is not surprised by West Ham's success in Europe and credited "top manager" David Moyes ahead of their Europa Conference League final on Wednesday.

West Ham can clinch their first major European trophy since 1965 when they face Italian side Fiorentina in Prague, where the Hammers will hope to sign off on a high after a disappointing domestic campaign.

And former England and Hammers striker Defoe lauded Moyes as the mastermind behind his boyhood side's resurgence in Europe, which also saw them reach the Europa League semi-finals last season.

Defoe, who played for the Scot at Sunderland, said: "It will be nice to see the boys win and for David Moyes – he is a top manager."

"I have not been surprised to be honest with West Ham reaching the final because tactically Moyes is so good. His attention to detail, he spends a lot of time setting the team up, he's experienced so I have not been surprised.

By PAUL THOMAS

"There has been a lot of speculation about his (Moyes) future and to top this off with a trophy it would be amazing."

Defoe believes the criticism that the former Everton and Manchester United boss has received for West Ham's performances this season has been harsh at times.

He said: "I think now it's part and parcel of the game, if you're not getting results you're going to be under pressure."

"I think at times it's been harsh but of course I'm going to say that because I've played under Moyes and I know the hard work he puts in."

Irons captain Declan Rice could play his last game in claret and blue this week amid heavy speculation about his future at the London Stadium, with a host of clubs being linked with a big-money move for the 24-year-old midfielder.

Defoe hailed the England international and highlighted his wide range of attributes which could make the difference in Wednesday's showdown.

Score

The 40-year-old, who will feature in this year's Soccer Aid, said: "Oh my God, this guy has so much potential. I still feel like he has so much room to improve and he's still young."

"He seems to be getting better and better every time I watch him play and I think he can play in different positions. If he plays further forward I think he'll score more goals. He's someone who really excites me."

"In terms of character and personality he's definitely got that and he's still young which is frightening because he's only going to improve, so how good is he going to be in three, four or five years' time? He's a leader, he can run, he can tackle. It's brilliant."

Rice made his England debut in 2019 and has gone on to win 41 caps for his country while establishing himself as a regular in Gareth Southgate's side.

Defoe said: "It's not only for West Ham where he performs it's for England as well at that pinnacle level, so he's definitely one who deserves a lot of credit for what he's done and the hard work he's put in, the rate he's improving and how he stays humble which is important."

Thilo Kehrer has urged his team to write their names into the West Ham history books.

The 1980 FA Cup was their most recent major trophy while their solitary success in Europe was the Cup Winners' Cup in 1965.

Kehrer is determined for West

FINAL IN PRAGUE TONIGHT!

HAMMER TIME: Defoe (below) would love to see his former manager lift a European trophy

Ham to finish the job at the end of a rollercoaster season that produced a 14th-placed finish in the league.

"Making history is being in the final, we know that. Now our focus and vision is completing the goal," Germany defender Kehrer said.

"I said it at the beginning of the season without knowing how the season would go, bringing a title to West Ham is a big goal.

Support

"We have the squad and quality to do it, so we're very confident going into this final. We're focused completely on the final.

"You can feel the excitement of the fans and everybody around the club. There's great excitement and for us players it's great to be in that place. We're enjoying it and will prepare to the best of our abilities.

"We feel the support of every one of our fans.

"We are aware of all the people who are supporting us, they are behind us and cheering us on. We are very glad about that. We are taking that energy with us to Prague.

"We're happy for everyone who will be at the stadium but also for everybody around back here, we'll give our best for them."

West Ham's 10-day gap between the climax to the Premier League season and their final enabled David Moyes to take the squad to Portugal for a short training camp.

The players were given the freedom to play golf and visit a local water park.

"We had some time together in a different place to usual, which helps to mix things up," Kehrer said.

"We relaxed a little bit but it also gave us some time together to regroup. We will try to use it as an advantage.

"We've bonded well as a group this season. We used the last few days to grow even more and get even more team spirit so that everyone is focused on the goal."

LIVERPOOL GET £45M BIG MAC

LIVERPOOL could be paying just £45m for Brighton midfielder Alexis Mac Allister.

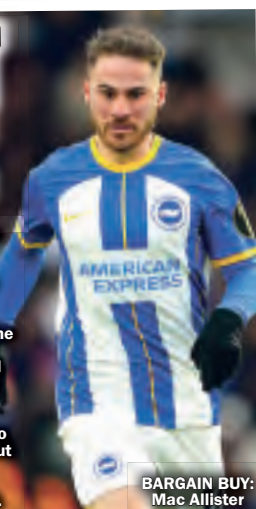

The Seagulls have given permission for the 24-year-old World Cup winner to begin the process of finalising his transfer to Anfield.

Mac Allister's father, Carlos, who acts as his agent, arrived at the weekend for talks regarding the Argentina international's future.

It is understood he has a release clause, believed to be between £45million and £55m, in a contract he only signed in October.

Brighton allowing him to have a medical means Liverpool are edging closer to securing a player who emerged as their top transfer target after pulling out of the race for Jude Bellingham.

Seagulls boss Roberto De Zerbi admitted last month he is already resigned to losing Mac Allister.
